ITEA announces call for projects

[Date: 2004-01-07]

ITEA (information technology for European advancement), a Eureka strategic cluster programme, has announced an upcoming call for projects for pre-competitive research and development in embedded and distributed software.

The call will be open to partners from large industrial companies, small and medium sized enterprises (SMEs), and research institutes and universities. ITEA projects are bottom up, industry driven initiatives involving at least two industrial partners from two different countries.

The call will be open from 19 January, and project outlines should be submitted by 2 April.
