

KIAT - beyond leading technology

Turkish, French, Korean project wins the "Most Innovative and Commercially Viable Project" award at KED 2013.

Project Reconserve, a reconfigurable maritime surveillance system that works across platforms and interfaces has been awarded a top prize at the Korea Eureka Day 2013 event.

The Reconserve project aims to markedly improve maritime security and surveillance by developing an open, interoperable maritime surveillance framework. GMT Cybernetics, a Korean company specializing in AIS and surveillance systems, is part of the project consortium that includes some of Europe's leading maritime engineering and systems companies, including Thales and Aselsan.

Jun 4

Korea Eureka day, project Reconserve, kiat, south korea, R&D collaboration, Eureka

About

The Korea Institute for Advancement of Technology (KIAT) is the technology innovation funding and industrial policy forming agency of Korea. It is a quasi government-public institute under the Korean Ministry of Knowledge Economy. www.kiat.or.kr

> More about KIAT

> Contact KIAT

Connect

